Dear Ms. Pitts,

Enclosed, you will find two copies of the museum's Media Use Agreement, authorizing NASA LaRC to use the museum's two images on its educational website. Please read the agreement and terms, and sign the front and initial the back. If necessary, another appropriate NASA or OEAS official may also sign. Please return one copy to me in the enclosed envelope, and retain the second copy for NASA's website records.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any additional questions or requests. Again, thank you so much for contacting us about the image; we are always thrilled that our collection materials can be used by other groups in the community.

Warmest regards,

Bethany Austin

Fee Schedule and Terms for Reproduction and Use of Collection Materials

All requests for copies of materials or permission to use them must be made in writing to Hampton History Museum collection staff. The written request must list specifically the materials requested, describe the nature of the project the materials are to be included in, and include the requestor's name, address, telephone, e-mail, and affiliation. The Hampton History Museum retains all rights and privileges to its materials. They may not be transferred or sold to anyone for any reason, or used for any purpose or at any location other than that stated in the written request. The fees below, and any permission granted, will be for one use, one publication, one edition, and in one language; any additional use of materials constitutes a second use, and permission must be specifically requested in writing and granted by the Hampton History Museum in a separate document.

Materials may not be duplicated without the prior written authorization of the Hampton History Museum. Materials must be used without alteration, including but not limited to cropping, bleeding, and overprinting, unless approved in advance by museum staff, and the user agrees not to allow any modifications, additions, or subtractions, including electronically. Each individual item must be acknowledged visibly, in immediate proximity, with the complete credit line stated in the List of Media section of the Media Use Agreement. If materials will be used for television or film, the credit line must appear in the end credits.

Requests for duplication of materials must be made in writing to the museum. Fees for duplication of media will be $5 plus actual shipping and handling costs for the first ten items, and $2 for each additional item after the first ten. Please note that these fees are in addition to any fees charged by third parties performing duplication services. The individual/entity requesting duplication will be responsible for those charges directly to the third party. Please allow 2-4 weeks from the date of the written request for the materials to be prepared and permission/licensing to be granted.

In addition to permission to duplicate, authorization for any public use must be requested in writing to the museum. Fees for exhibition, publication, or any other public use of materials, including but not limited to websites, books, newsletters, journals, videos, and broadcasts, will be as follows:

- For-profit use: $50 per item. The Hampton History Museum reserves the right to determine a fee of other than $50 for large-scale commercial use, to be determined solely by the museum.
- Not-for-profit use: $20 per item. (Must provide proof of official IRS non-profit status.)
- Scholarly Journals and Magazines: $20 per item.
- Theses/Dissertations: Use fees are typically waived, but researchers must still request permission to use materials.

all fees waived. BNA

The Hampton History Museum reserves the right to make alterations or exceptions to the above policy at any time and for any reason. The Hampton History Museum further reserves the right to refuse duplication requests or to charge fees on a case-by-case basis at its sole discretion. However, such discretion shall not be unreasonable imposed. The user agrees to release the Hampton History Museum from liability or responsibility for any and all damage resulting from use of duplicated or licensed materials. The Hampton History Museum makes no claim or provides no assessment of any copyright restrictions imposed on its materials, other than for materials for which the Museum holds all rights. It is the sole responsibility of the user to determine all materials' status under copyright law, to ensure that use falls within legal limits, and to secure permission and rights from copyright holders.
